In social psychology, social loafing is the phenomenon of a person exerting less effort to achieve a goal when they work in a group than when they work alone. This is seen as one of the main reasons groups are sometimes less productive than the combined performance of their members working as individuals, but should be distinguished from the accidental coordination problems that groups ...

In the USA up to 4 in ten adults use 'some form' of alternative therapy 1. In Britain there are about 150 000 alternative therapists, and the public spend about £4.5 billion on them (as of year 2009) 2. In nearly all practices, they work due to the psychology surrounding 'treatment' (the placebo effect and statistical regression) rather than the actual result of the treatment.
