A Brief Survey of Text Mining: Classification, Clustering and Extraction Techniques KDD Bigdas, August 2017, Halifax, Canada other clusters. In topic modeling a probabilistic model is used to determine a soft clustering, in which every document has a probability distribution over all the clusters as opposed to hard clustering of documents.

A Brief Survey of Text Mining: Classification, Clustering

Survey of Text Mining is a comprehensive edited survey organized into three parts: Clustering and Classification; Information Extraction and Retrieval; and Trend Detection. Many of the chapters stress the practical application of software and algorithms for current and future needs in text mining.

Figure 1. An example of Text Mining Text mining is procedure of synthesizing the information by analyzing relations, the patterns and rules from the textual data. A key element is the linking together of the extracted information together to form new facts or new hypotheses to be explored further by more conventional means of experimentation.
