Etymology. The missile's name was given by M. Guillot, then the technical director at Nord Aviation. It is the French word for flying fish from the Latin name exocoetus, a transliteration of the Greek name for flying fish ἄψιδος ἰχθύς, (exochōitos), which literally means "lying down outside (ἀψιδος ἰχθύς), sleeping outside", because it sometimes stranded itself in boats.
